

ALONG THE EAST SHORE.

A NOTABLE ERA OF MATERIAL PROSPERITY.

Many Changes of Interest—Great Changes in Progress—Below Morris Cove—A Large Number of New Houses to be Built—Cottages in That Section at the New Morris Park—New Cottages Erected by Jeremiah Smith & Sons, Mr. Shepard and Various Others—The Old Morris House—People Now Summering at Morris Cove.

Many changes of note of interest to the public are going on and have recently been made in the southern part of New Haven's annex and at Morris Cove. Morris Cove emerged from its rural and ancient quietude when the Cove cottage area opened, and emerged still further when the electric road built to its doors. Now signs of the further development, which the electric road has fostered, or made possible, are apparent in all the lower parts of the annex. A New Havener returning to this city after an absence of only six years was astonished and amazed on taking a ride on the cars to Lighthouse Point to behold the numerous new dwellings, all of them comfortable and many of artistic appearance, which are to be seen near Four Corners, on Woodward avenue and in the Cove. Verily wonderful changes have occurred in these sections in late years. The east shore of New Haven harbor is rapidly improving, and in a few years more the southern annex will be a populous portion of New Haven. Great improvements have been in progress for a year past in the southern part of the annex, below the Cove. A large tract of land has been purchased by one of our prominent citizens and converted into building sites. Nice broad streets have been laid out and graded, and great changes in general have been made, and in a short time the place will be teeming with cottages. Already many building lots have been purchased by enterprising citizens. This new section is attracting much public attention, and is known as "Morris Park." It embraces the greater part of the Julius H. Morris farm, which was one of the oldest and best farms of East Haven's many good ones. This ancient farm has now yielded to the inevitable, and will soon be thickly inhabited with cottages and prominent residents. Already a number of cottages have been erected, and the indications are that the location will be rapidly built up. The following New Haven people have within a few weeks purchased building sites of Mr. Edward M. Clark of this city, the proprietor of this new park: Charles B. Shepard, who is with S. S. Thompson & Co., Edward O'Brien, the builder; Frank C. Shepard, William E. Perry, two lots; Edward O'Brien, who is in the stone business; Edward J. Hegel, John W. Hegel, two lots, and Herman A. Hegel, all well known New Haven men; Rev. Mr. Collett, Joseph Olson, Oscar Olson, Sarah S. Baldwin, the artist, and Patrick McGushen, two lots.

Mr. Shepard has erected a very substantial cottage, Mr. Dore and Mr. Foley have each built one, and Jeremiah Smith & Sons, the famous oyster merchants at City Point, have built a very handsome cottage. The last three or four named parties purchased earlier in the year.

Mr. Clark is entitled to much praise for his enterprise and push in purchasing and developing the property in question. There are thirty acres in all in Morris Park. It lies between Morris Cove and Long Island Sound on the upland, commanding a beautiful view of New Haven harbor, Long Island Sound and Morris Cove and adjacent territory. The purchase of a building lot carries with it the ownership of a strip of land only a short distance away fronting the sandy beach of New Haven harbor. This strip is for a bath house and bathing purposes. The beach is easily accessible and there is always deep enough water for bathing at any time of the tide. The names of the new streets in this new Morris Park are as follows: Morris street, named in honor of Mr. Morris, who owned the Morris farm; Cliff street, Shepard street, Ocean View street, Meadow street and Orchard street. Mr. Morris retains his ancient homestead with a plot of land adjoining, all the rest of the farm being now Morris Park. The Morris house is the famous old stone house which was fired by the British when they invaded New Haven and afterward rebuilt by the Morris.

A large sum of money was expended by Mr. Clark in improving Morris Park in laying out streets, of which there are in the aggregate a mile and a half; and over 20,000 cart loads of earth were moved for grading purposes and many hundreds of tons of rock were blasted out. A force of from twenty to thirty men has been at work for about a year in bringing the park into its present beautiful and attractive condition.

Many of those who have bought lots intend to reside at the park the year round, the location being handy to the electric cars and nearly all the purchasers intend to build right away, so that there is to be a building boom in that section at an early day.

Situated only a short distance from this city and easy of access by the electric cars is the pretty summer resort, Morris Cove, facing the harbor, with one of the best bathing beaches on the coast. At the north end, the Cove is separated from the old Fort Hale Park by the Pallsades, two bold bluffs rising abruptly from the water's edge to the height of seventy feet. This picturesque spot, one of the recent additions to New Haven's public parks, affords the residents an excellent opportunity to take a quiet stroll away from the Cove proper. Any moonlight evening numerous couples take advantage of the winding paths, easy seats and cool breezes that it is noted for. From the top can be seen the Cove beach in a semi-circle stretching gracefully to the old Lighthouse Point rocks nearly a mile away and on a clear day the high sand hills of Long Island loom up on the horizon.

The Cove on the south side is bounded by the lighthouse woods and the old Morris hill. Here lies the old colonial mansion mentioned above. It is in the style of two centuries ago. On the west side of the house in large black figures is the inscription "Morris, 1677," signifying the year when Amos Morris first received a deed of the present land. From that time until the present the house has been occupied by the descendants of this same Morris.

Half way between the Pallsades and the old Morris house is situated the home of the Pequot club, one of the most prosperous summer clubs on the coast. What was formerly an old house has been transformed into a club house with its spacious parlors and broad verandas. The club house has become a popular resort among the visiting yachtsmen, till now a cruise is considered incomplete without a stop-over at the Pequot.

The cool spell in July kept many away, but now the season is at its best and every available space is occupied in the cottages. The following is a list of people at this resort:

Mrs. Henry Jones and family, and Miss Fannie Smith from North Adams, Mass., are occupying the Cedar cottage.

WILL MAINTAIN STANDARD RATES

Agents of Railroad and Steamship Lines Decide Not to Cut.

New York, Aug. 6.—A meeting of representatives of southern traffic lines and associations embracing railways and steamships was held this forenoon at the Waldorf Hotel to consider the question of the cutting of rates between northern ports and south Atlantic ports, which for some time has been quite heavy.

There were present at the meeting Samuel Spencer, president of the Eastern railway; H. Walters, president of the Atlantic Coast line; Captain Hayes, receiver of the Central railway of Georgia; R. G. Erwin, vice president of the Plant system of steamship lines; General Freight Agent Whitney of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation company of Baltimore; General Sorrell, manager of the Ocean Steamship line of Georgia; Traffic Manager Culp of the Southern Railway, and the freight and passenger of the Pennsylvania line.

The meeting was held with closed doors and lasted nearly two hours. At its conclusion the representatives were very reticent as to what they had done. It was stated, however, that they had all agreed to stop any further cutting of rates and would maintain the standard rate of last year.

They will sign an agreement to this effect, which will go into operation on August 10.

Court Notes.

In the probate court yesterday Judge Cleveland appointed attorneys Henry C. Newton and Jacob P. Goodhart commissioners on the estate of the late Howard H. Hanson, the Fair Haven ship builder.

Justice Philip Pond yesterday gave judgment for the defendant in the suit brought by James Maloney and John Cameron against L. P. Sperry to recover wages amounting to about $50.

EMMERICH & CO. HAVE FAILED.

In the probate court yesterday M. Emmerich & Co., carriage manufacturers at 668 State street, filed a voluntary assignment, naming Charles Liechtenstein of 1272 State street as trustee. The hearing on the latter's appointment will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock. No schedule of assets and liabilities were filed with the assignment.

CASE DISMISSED.

Justice David T. McNamara yesterday morning dismissed the case of John T. Sloan against Edward Danforth, and awarded the defendant costs. Danforth is a sewing machine agent and Sloan is the agent for the premises which Danforth occupies. Sloan sued to recover for rent, but brought the suit in his own name instead of as agent.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

Carpenter Arthur J. Moss of Bridgeport met with a sudden death—Was Eating a Beef Sandwich.

Bridgeport, Aug. 6.—Arthur J. Moss of 17 Wordin avenue, a carpenter in the employ of Henry H. Nettleton, died from suffocation in John Poland's saloon, corner of Park and Fairfield avenues, at 9:30 this forenoon. The cause was the lodging of a piece of beef in his throat above the larynx, which choked him to death.

Mr. Moss, with Thomas Flanagan, another carpenter, were out of employment temporarily, but Mr. Moss expected to go to work to-morrow. They entered John Poland's saloon about 9 this forenoon. Flanagan said that he had nothing to eat since yesterday and he would like a sandwich.

Mr. Poland had plenty of roast beef, but no bread. Mr. Flanagan went out and bought a loaf. Mr. Moss was handed the first sandwich made and gave it to Flanagan, who told Moss to eat it himself. The beef was cut thick and Moss had no teeth. He munched on the bit of beef and attempted to swallow it. It lodged in his throat and he cried to Flanagan to hit him on the back. Flanagan did so, but it had no effect, and Moss sank into a seat exhausted a minute later, gasping for air. Flanagan worked over Moss, trying to dislodge the obstacle, and the bartender ran for a doctor. Drs. Rice and Gregory responded, but Moss was dead when they arrived. The obstacle was removed and artificial respiration was resorted to, but without effect. Coroner Dotson notified Dr. Godfrey to act as medical examiner in Dr. Downs' absence.

After Dr. Godfrey had made an examination he gave permission for the removal of the body. Mr. Moss was forty-eight years old and leaves a wife and three children. He was born in England, but had lived in this country the past fifteen or twenty years.

OLDPLAYWRIGHT DEAD.

Death of Charles Foster, Once Manager of the Bowery Theater.

New York, Aug. 6.—Charles Foster, an old time playwright, manager and actor, died at his home, No. 10 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, yesterday afternoon of Bright's disease.

He was the author of "Twenty Years Dead" played by Buffalo Bill, "The Swamp Angel," "The Old Straw Man," and other lively dramas were some of his products. He was the manager of the Old Bowery theater for twenty-five years, and played in the "Silver King" company for a number of years.

Mr. Foster leaves three daughters, one of whom is the wife of Assistant District Attorney Jacob Berlinger. Another daughter is an actress in the west. Mr. Foster was sixty-two years old.

POISONED BY ICE CREAM.

Many Persons Ill After the Reeves Band Picnic—Some in a Critical State.

Park Ridge, N. J., Aug. 6.—Many persons living in this village and Pearl River are suffering from poisoning, the result of eating ice cream at the picnic of Reeves' brass band. The picnic was held on Saturday night in Serven Park, Pearl River, and was largely attended by the residents of Park Ridge, Pearl River and Spring Valley.

The ice cream provided for the occasion was made by P. S. Tigert, who is the leader of Reeves' band. Tigert and J. A. Fisher, who were the first to partake of the cream, were the first to be taken sick. Others complained of feeling ill before reaching their homes on Saturday night, while a large number were attacked on Sunday and yesterday. All had the same symptoms, severe pains in the stomach and high fever.

Among the sufferers beside Tigert and Fisher are Mrs. J. Bahr, Mrs. R. Oakley, Miss Nellie Bogart, Miss Nellie Van Zandt, Mrs. Dr. D. L. Bogert, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. George Van Zandt, James Serven, Miss Maggie Serven, Mr. and Mrs. L. Blackwell, John Bronsel, John D. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Serven, Miss De Baun and two friends from Hoboken, John Bracknell and family, Mrs. Romaine and family, Mrs. John Thorpe and family and others.

Thus far there have been no deaths, but condition of the sufferers are in a critical condition. A dozen or more were pronounced out of danger this morning.

A complete investigation has not yet been made as to how the poison got into the ice cream. The doctors who made a hasty examination of the cans which contained the ice cream, are of the opinion that the cans were not properly washed at the time the ice cream was made.

Dealings in Realty.

Dennis A. Blakelee has purchased from Edward L. Fields the property with the buildings thereon situated at the southeast corner of Day and George streets.

Not a Combination.

New York, Aug. 6.—At the offices of the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing company, No. 120 Broadway, a representative of the company said to-day: "The agreement with the Baldwin Locomotive Works has gone into effect. No further meeting will be necessary to ratify it. The new arrangement is not a combination but simply a working agreement."

Will Ignore the Demand.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 6.—To-day Governor Altgeld intimated that he would pay no attention to any demand made upon him by Chicago colored people for troops at Springfield Valley. A demand by the sheriff of the county where the troubles existed or any person with authority will likely be honored.

Nothing to complain of—the woman who uses Pearlina. Nothing to complain of in the washing and cleaning line, anyway. And certainly the proprietors of Pearlina can't complain. If you only knew how many women, every day, are making up their minds that the old, wearing, tearing, tiresome way of washing doesn't pay!

It's growing bigger than ever—the success of Pearlina; though it has to fight not only against all kinds of poor imitations, but against a sort of superstition that anything which can save so much labor must be harmful in some way.

Beware. Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "This is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

JAMES PYLE, New York.
